Biographical Note

David Beaulieu, education professor and administrator, was the President of the Board of Trustees of the Native American Educational Services College from 1973-1997. Beaulieu earned his Ph.D. in Education Administration from the University of Minnesota, and was a post-doctoral fellow at the Newberry Library's Darcy McNickle Center for the History of the American Indian. From 1973-1991, he served as President of the Board of Trustees of the Native American Educational Services College; he has also held faculty positions at the University of Minnesota, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, University of Illinois-Chicago, Moorhead State University, and Sinte Gleska College.

Beaulieu has worked in both state and federal government as an education administrator: his positions have included Director of Indian Education for the State of Minnesota, Commissioner of the Department of Human Rights for the State of Minnesota, and Director of the Office of Indian Education for the United States Department of Education.

At Arizona State University, Beaulieu is Professor of Education Leadership and Policy Studies, and Director of the Center for Indian Education. Beaulieu served on the board of the National Indian Education Association (NIEA) from 2003-2006, and was President of NIEA in 2005. He is Editor of the Journal of American Indian Education.

Scope Note

This collection consists of the papers of David Beaulieu, forming part of the archives of Native American Educational Services. The majority of the collection consists of documents such as government records or copies of papers on scholarly topics related to Native Americans in the United States. This collection consists of four series, all of them arranged alphabetically and then chronologically.

Series I: Education, is composed of copies of articles for study purposes, reviews and reports on educational strategies, directories of Native American schools, and yearbooks of the Intermountain School. There are also several handbooks and manuals from various schools.

Series II: Government, consists of copies of government reports and several chapters of a long chapter or report on Native American Indians. This series deals primarily is legislative and legal issues about the treatment of Native American and land grants in the United States, mostly from the 1960's through the 1980's.

Series III: Newspapers, Magazines, and Newsletters, is composed of copies of newsletters and newspapers created by or about Native Americans in the United States. These papers and newsletters deal with social and legal issues within the Native American community and with the United States government. The bulk of this series is primarily from the 1970's.

Series IV: Restricted, consists of a few documents pulled from the Education section that includes some restricted materials. This includes two grant proposals and several folders of student reports and information.
