Descriptive Summary

Identifier	ICU.SPCL.STDNTGOV
Title	University of Chicago. Student Government. Records
Date	1948-1981
Size	7.5 linear feet (16 boxes)
Repository	Special Collections Research Center University of Chicago Library 1100 East 57th Street Chicago, Illinois 60637 U.S.A.
Abstract	The University of Chicago's Student Government advocates for student issues in cooperation with the governing bodies of university faculty and administration. During the mid- to late-twentieth century, Student Government was active in campus programming, funded student organizations, participated in national student groups, and supported the student body's involvement with political and social issues. This collection includes administrative and procedural records of Student Government, Student-Faculty Administration Court documents, and publications and ephemera related to student organizations, political activities, and social service. As well as recording the activities and functions of Student Government, this collection includes documentation of student groups, campus events, and the relationship of the student body to political and social movements of the 1950s-1970s.

Information on Use

Access

Series III: Subseries 2 contains budget material for funds allocated by the Committee on Registered Student Organizations (CORSO) to registered student organizations. This material spans the years 1964-1978, and is restricted for a period of fifty years.

The remainder of the collection is open for research, with no restrictions.

Historical Note

The University of Chicago's Student Government advocates for student issues in cooperation with the governing bodies of university faculty and administration. As outlined in its Constitution, the goals of Student Government are "To further the interests and promote the welfare of the students at the University of Chicago; to foster a University community; to represent the body more effectively before University authorities and the community at large." Student Government also oversees the funding of registered student organizations.

During the mid- to late-twentieth century, Student Government was active in campus programs such as foreign student exchanges, orientation events and speakers' series. Student Government also advocated for academic freedom and other civil liberties issues of concern to students. In the 1960s and 1970s, Student Government was a source of support for students protesting the Vietnam War, working in the civil rights movement, and serving the Hyde Park, Kenwood and Woodlawn communities.

Scope Note

This collection includes administrative and procedural records of Student Government, Student-Faculty Administration Court documents, and publications and ephemera related to national student organizations, political movements and social issues. As well as recording the activities and functions of Student Government, this collection includes documentation of student groups, campus events, and the relationship of the student body to political and social movements of the 1950s-1970s.

Series I: General Files, is organized by subject and span the years 1949-1979. Subjects relate to areas such as government proceedings, student activities and events, and political and social issues at both the campus and national level. Organizational and governmental documents such as meeting minutes, reports, statements, resolutions, and bills are found in this series, as are correspondence, publications, promotional material, and documents related to campus events and programming.

Series II: National Student Association, documents the relationship between Student Government and the NSA, a confederated group of student governments, from the late 1940s to late 1970s. Much of this series consists of correspondence and organizational material related to the planning of NSA assemblies and NSA-sponsored programming at University of Chicago. Also included are NSA publications and promotional material.

Series III: Committee on Recognized Student Organizations, contains records kept by CORSO, a committee of Student Government that allocated funding to registered student organizations. This series is divided into two subseries. Subseries 1: Subject Files, is arranged alphabetically and contains administrative records of CORSO, correspondence, and material related to student groups and campus events. Subseries 2: Budget Material, contains budget requests from student groups, budget allocations by CORSO, and some material related to budget decisions. Both subseries span the 1960s-1970s.

Series IV: Student-Faculty Administration Court, contains records spanning the years 1951-1976. Most of the material relates to court cases in which Student Government or student organizations were involved. This series is arranged chronologically, and includes court documents such as briefs, summons, and decisions, as well as correspondence and other supporting material.
